Hello.

I'm working as a .NET Developer since 2013 and I'm currently opened for a new position.

From my CV you can see how much I helped to my previous employers and my positive impact there. I'd succeed to improve and develop their systems, to give some useful ideas, to expand their teams.

It would be perfect if you contact me and go forward for an interview and direct communication. Then I'll be able to talk with you about my skills and ensure you that the job will be done. I think you will feel safe and be satisfied with the results.

Sincerely,

Tanyo Ivanov
